Eva Bernstein and Julie Hogan Conquer the THIS NHS Adult Equitation Championships

The THIS NHS Adult Equitation Championship is one of the most coveted titles for adult amateur riders. The class was split into two separate sections, welcoming ages between 18 and 24 and ages over 25 to ride for championship honors in their respective division. Eva Bernstein claimed the tri-color in the 18-24 section while Julie Hogan topped the 25 and over section.

“This is a great class. It enables people to compete at this very high level, some who have never been at this level before,” commented president of Taylor Harris Insurance Services, Michael Taylor. “We are very happy to be able to grant that opportunity to them.”

Bobby Murphy (USA) set an inviting, yet technical first round track. Including two combinations and sweeping bending lines, the riders were asked to demonstrate their horse's rideability while keeping a consistent, proper position to the base of each jump. At the conclusion of the first round over fences, each rider was invited back for a flat phase, where the judges then chose 25 riders to come back for a second over fences round. Murphy added unrelated bending lines and jumps off of short turns, encouraging riders to flaunt their adjustability.

Concluding the second over fences round of the 18-24 section, four riders were invited back into the Alltech to work-off for the championship title. After demonstrating two simple changes of lead into a counter canter, a balanced halt before cantering up to an oxer, and a sitting trot to the lineup, Eva Bernstein came out on top, besting the field of 48 seasoned adult amateurs. Aboard the 6-year-old Holsteiner gelding owned by Donald Stewart, Bernstein answered all of the questions asked of her through each phase. Claiming the second place honors was Anna Koenig aboard her own 8-year-old Holsteiner gelding, Constantin.

“This is my first time doing this final and it is also Gladwell's first time. He's only six, so I really wanted to go in and make it a positive experience,” commented Bernstein. “It is such an honor to be showing here. It is so much fun and the environment is great.”

In the 25 and over division, Julie Hogan and Ferndale, a 9-year-old Danish Warmblood gelding owned by Avery Jansen, was named champion. Hogan handled the courses with ease, keeping Ferndale at an even and consistent pace as the pair made quick but calculated work of the bending lines thanks to Hogan's soft hand and Ferndale's lofty stride. Reserve Champion was awarded to Jeanine Cash and Boccaccio, her 14-year-old Rhineland gelding.

“This was an extra special experience for me – there were a lot of people and a lot of forces that went into making this experience possible,” said Hogan. “I have to give a very special thank you to Avery Jansen and Margo Jansen for sharing their fantastic Ferndale with me for this horse show, as well as for some other shows throughout the year. Overall, it really was one of the best experiences of my riding career. I'm so so grateful for everybody and all of the horses that were involved in getting me here today.”

Sponsor Spotlight

The National Horse Show is pleased to announce the addition of The WSJ Foundation as the 2022 VIP Lounge sponsor. The WSJ Foundation was created to provide assistance in healing to both people and animals. Committed to supporting various not for profit efforts, the WSJ Foundation is dedicated to bringing an awareness of healing into communities.

"We are proud to be supporting such a wonderful and historic horse show while also bringing awareness to the foundation's mission" comments WSJ Foundation founder, Wendy Janesky. "I am passionate about the support I can provide others and am excited to be able to share this message with all who attend the National Horse Show."

The WSJ Foundation VIP Lounge will continue its second year in the Executive Skyboxes in the Alltech Arena. This sophisticated and social VIP experience offers a full service bar and food throughout the event while providing pass-holders an elegant and comfortable lounge area with high visibility of the arena to watch all of the action.

Still need to get your WSJ Lounge Pass?
