Saved the Best for Last - Daniel Coyle and Oak Grove's Carlyle Top T&R Development International Two Phase

International show jumping competition returned to the Alltech Arena Friday evening for the T&R Development International Two Phase CSI4* at the 2022 National Horse Show. A highlight event of the day, 30 international athletes and their top mounts jumped the two phase course in hopes of securing a piece of the $37,000 purse. Of the competitive roster, Daniel Coyle (IRE) and Oak Grove's Carlyle earned their place on top in the winner's circle for their brilliant performance throughout the two phases of competition.

Guilherme Jorge (BRA) set forth an 8-obstacle first-phase track, testing athletes' power through the technical course. Those who navigated a clear effort would advance to the 7-fence power phase in a race against the clock that would determine the top spots on the leaderboard. Setting the pace with the first double-clear effort was Kelli Cruciotti-Vanderveen (USA) aboard Springpaarden Fonds Nederland's Forever SFN, who were the second pair in the order-of-go. The duo navigated their way around the first phase to a fault-free finish for their shot at the second phase, stopping the clocks in 31.53 seconds and setting the time to beat.

Cruciotti-Vanderveen and the 12-year-old KWPN gelding set the bar high for the field of competitors, immediately setting the tone with an effortless fault-free round. The duo has racked up an impressive list of FEI placings since they came together in January at the Winter Equestrian Festival [Wellington, FL]. Cruciotti-Vanderveen and Forever SFN held the lead for ten trips until Charlotte Jacobs rode North Star farm's Rincoola Milsean to a speedy second phase to knock her out of the top spot.

Jacobs and the 9-year-old Irish Sport Horse gelding were in it to win it, making every inside turn available to them and hand galloping down to two long run oxers. Rincoola Milsean mastered the track as he was incredibly quick off of the ground, staying in careful form through the entirety of the course. The pair crossed the timers in the second phase in a quick 31.45 seconds. They were unbeatable until the very last horse-and-athlete combination entered the Alltech.

Coyle and Ariel Grange's Oak Grove's Carlyle claimed the second blue ribbon of international jumper competition at the 2022 National Horse Show with ease. The 14-year-old Holsteiner gelding never batted an eye, in perfect sync with Coyle through every related distance and turn. Coyle, ranked 43rd in the world, made light work of the track. Oak Grove's Carlyle used his massive stride to cover the ground and meet the base of the jumps perfectly to set him up for each inside turns. The duo saved the best for last and hand galloped to the final oxer, landing through the timers at 31.18 seconds.

The Leo Conroy Equitation Grant

Established to commemorate Leo Conroy's loyalty and dedication to the National Horse Show and the ASPCA Maclay – both held a special place in Leo's heart, having been a rider and trainer for most of his life.

The Leo Conroy Equitation Grant will be awarded to up to five (5) riders from each of the three Equitation Championships who demonstrate a financial need in order to participate at the National Horse Show.

- The Leo Conroy Equitation Grant is open to riders who qualify to compete in the ASPCA Maclay Finals and those who qualify to compete in the Hamel Foundation NHS 3'3" Equitation Championship or the Taylor Harris Insurance Services Adult Equitation Championship.
- Selected riders will receive entry fees and stabling at the ASPCA Maclay Finals, the Hamel Foundation NHS 3'3" Equitation Championships or the Taylor Harris Insurance Services Adult Equitation Championship at the National Horse Show, and an additional stipend to cover show related expenses.

Small Love and Augusta Iwasaki take home $50,000 National Horse Show Hunter Classic Presented by The Chronicle of The Horse

- From the Winners Circle -

Augusta Iwasaki's advice for other junior riders:
"I think you have to believe in your team and, of course, believe in your horse. Even if you're feeling a little unsure, if you have a really good support system behind you it will help catch you."

Michael Britt-Leon on National Horse Show:
"It's exciting to be here at the National horse show, it's an honor just to have qualified. You know we work all year on these horses, we campaign so much and they give so much to us. So to be showing here is an honor in itself to be able to make it into the classes is of course a bonus, a cherry on top."

"Chappy is just a wonderful horse, we've had him for two years now. He's become a really shiny element in our string of horses. He loves the handy, he loves the derbies. He's such a cool horse."

As the oldest indoor horse show in America, the National Horse Show brings a collection of some of the country's top hunter riders and horses to the Alltech Arena of the Kentucky Horse Park to contest for championship honors and a spot in the $50,000 National Horse Show Hunter Classic, presented by The Chronicle of The Horse.

Of the 25 horse-and-rider pairs that put their names forward for the winning title and lion's share of the money, it was Iwasaki and Reilly's Small Love, piloted by Augusta Iwasaki, who jumped to victory in the prestigious two-round competition.

Throughout the first half of the week, invitations were extended to the Champion and Reserve Champion horse-and-rider combinations of hunter sections that competed over jumps at the 3'3" height or higher.

Michael Britt-Leon, Callie Seaman, and Augusta Iwasaki each had two mounts apiece in the class to increase their chances of leaving with a portion of the pot. The competition began with the 4' section, which included two combinations both piloted by Britt-Leon, then lowered the jumps to 3'9" for four pairs, then 3'6" for 14 combinations, and finally finished at the 3'3" height for the remaining seven riders.

Course designers Bobby Murphy and Kevin Holowack (USA) crafted the first round course fit for the occasion. The classic track featured 10 beautifully decorated hunter fences with natural elements including two walls that replicated the traditional hunter style. Following the first round, the top 12 horse-and-rider pairs were invited to return for the second round. Both Iwasaki on Small Love and Hunt Tosh aboard Redfield Farm's Corragio scored the highest with scores of 91 points. Michael Britt-Leon and Kelly Sims' Private I and Greg Crolick on Carole Chase's Chappy were not far behind both earning first round scores of 87.50.

The handy hunter round tasked riders with showcasing the rideability and handiness of their mounts. Third to enter the ring over the handy track set at 4" was Britt-Leon aboard the 10 year-old Oldenburg gelding, Private I. The pair jumped to a second round score of 89.00 points for a two round total of 176.50 points taking an early lead in the class. Only three rides later, Crolick piloted the 11 year-old Mecklenburg gelding to another textbook handy ride taking inside turns and showing Chappy's adjustability over the 3'9" track, earning a score of 86.50 and 174 points overall.

Eleventh to contest in the 12 horse handy round, Iwasaki knew what she had to do in order to best the talented field of professionals, juniors, and amateurs. Leaving it all in the ring and displaying experience beyond her years, Iwasaki rode the 9 year-old Hanoverian mare to the class high score of 91.50 points to secure a six point lead in the class with 182.50 points from the two rounds.

An added bonus for the hunter athletes, the top three scoring junior and amateur riders received an additional $10,000 bonus to be split between them. Iwasaki was the highest scoring junior athlete followed by Clara Propp and Joey Roman. For the amateurs, Jean Sheptoff took the lead followed by Alexa Bing and Callie Seaman.

Earlier in the day, junior hunter divisions concluded with the crowning of their respective age and height divisions and the Grand Junior Hunter championship. Sharing the prestigious title of Grand Junior Hunter Champion this year was Bikoff Equestrian's Commentary, piloted by Ella Bikoff and Marnell Sport Horses' Babylon, ridden by Ariana Marnell. Immediately following, 3'3" Junior Hunters took to the Alltech to conclude their age group sections where Madeline Brooks and her own Captain Jack took home the overall tri-color award in the Junior Hunter 3'3".

LONGINES

As the longtime supporter and partner of the Longines FEI Jumping World Cup Lexington, Longines returns to sponsor the star-studded Saturday night event once again. The highly anticipated Grand Prix will take place Saturday, November 5th at 7PM in the Alltech Arena. The National Horse Show team graciously thanks Longines for their unwavering support over the years of the historic event and is thrilled to welcome them back.

Longines is proud to include the Swiss Made mark on all of its watches. This simple wording guarantees a standard of quality that has been established over many centuries, and is today a world-renowned symbol of excellence. On top of Longines own proven excellence, the Swiss Made mark provides customers with even more assurance and trust in the watch they wear on their wrist.

Longines' long-lasting involvement in sports timekeeping started in 1878 with the first chronograph manufactured by the brand. Building on its in-house expertise, Longines has gradually developed a special relationship with the world of sport. It can count now many years of experience as official timekeeper of world championships, and as partner of international sports federations.

The National Horse Show is pleased to add Horseflight to its list of sponsors for this year's event. Horseflight is a leader in the equine air travel industry with over ten years of experience flying horses safely, comfortably and carefully. The team at Horseflight strives to nurture each horse with love and protection to deliver clients an experience beyond expectations.

All domestic flights are built around your schedule. Thanks to Horseflight's extensive network, ground transportation can be arranged in conjunction with your flight. Door to door has never been easier!
